December Catalog Sales Special - Moose Supply Department 1942 Chevrolet Box Truck Limited Edition Collectible Die-Cast Bank

While Supplies Last! A Spec Cast, Moose Supply Department 1942 Chevrolet Box Truck Limited Edition Collectible Die-Cast Bank. Chevrolet introduced a completely new look for its truck line in 1941, and it was carried over into 1942 with few changes. The wide bars of the grille and the streamlined headlight housings set into flat-topped front fenders were dramatic departures from earlier Chevrolet trucks. The art deco-inspired styling earned these trucks the nickname "Wurlitzer Juke Boxes" The 1942 Chevrolet 1 1/2 -ton truck offered a 134" or 160" wheelbase and came equipped with a six - cylinder engine and a four - speed manual transmission.

As World War II loomed, chromed accents gave way to painted trim, resulting in the "blackout models". Civilian truck production shut down in early 1942, with Chevrolet devoting itself entirely to the war effort. When peacetime production resumed after V-J Day, the truck line was virtually identical to the 1942 models. Minor improvements were made for 1946, with final assembly of the "Juke Boxes" in May of 1947. This Collectible Historical Die- Cast Bank can be seen on page 27 of the # 79 catalog or our online catalog. This bank is being offered for only $15.00 each (plus S/H) While Supplies Last!
